TWO SERIOUSLY INJURED IN EARLY MORNING CRASH

Somerville Girl on Danger List at Symmes. Big Car Reduced to Junk after Striking Pole. Driver Wedged In. Extricated by Fire Department Emergency Crew.

Chamberlain Heads Symmes Trustees

Monday evening in the rooms of the Arlington Cooperative Bank was held the annual meeting of the Symmes Arlington Hospital. During the meeting of the corporation, Arthur O. Yeames was elected clerk and Maurice L. Hatch, treasurer. This latter position has been held by Walter T. Chamberlain for the past twelve years.

This meeting was followed by a

Two people were seriously injured Tuesday morning at four-thirty, when an automobile operated by James P. O'Neil of 109 Porter street, Somerville, crashed into a steel pole at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Bartlett avenue, opposite the First Baptist church. The driver and his companion, Miss Eleanor F. Galgay, 21, of 100 Prospect street, Somerville, were badly smashed up and removed to Symmes Arlington Hospital in the police ambulance. The big car, which was of expensive make, was practically reduced to junk.

Huge Attendance at Citizens' Committee Preliminary Meeting

If there had ever been any doubt of the popularity of the Citizens' Committee in Arlington, it was, the officers believe, most certainly dispelled last week Wednesday evening, when the first meeting of the year was held.

According to many of the Town's oldest residents, this was the largest gathering that has turned out for a meeting of this type in a good many years. Concerning the meeting, this statement has been issued from headquarters:

"It is most gratifying to the officers, the board of directors and the members to know that the voters of Arlington are apparently strongly in back of them, in their effort to give this town the best possible public officials, so that Arlington may continue the fine type

Local Advertising Man Will Tell PTA How to Say "No"

"Do you know how to say 'No'?" Do you buy so many things at the door that you really do not want, that you have no money left to buy the things you do want?"

People like that, and the category includes most, are invited to hear one of the most interesting talks of the year at the Locke School Hall at two o'clock on January 31st.

Kenneth Grubb, B. S., M. B. A., will talk to the Locke Parent-Teacher Association on "How to Say No." He distills about a quarter of a century of experience and Registrars in Several Sessions Before Town Election.

Registration of voters in time for the annual town election March 4 will be held at various public places in the town between February 2 and February 21. The registrars, Timothy J. Buckley, Dennis I. Donahue, Arthur W. Sampson, and Earl A. Ryder, town clerk, state that "All citizens of the United States who have lived one year in the Commonwealth and six months in Arlington, prior to March 4, 1940, and who can read and write, may apply for registration."

The registrars will be in session from two until four at Robbins Memorial Town Hall on the after-

"Fireman Save My Child" at Park Ave. Parish Saturday

The melodrama, "Fireman Save My Child," will be presented by the Young People's Forum of the Park Avenue Congregational church Saturday evening, January 27, at the parish house.

The play, directed by Miss Florence Wilson, is a one-act melodrama and promises many surprises—among them "Little Ella."

The cast includes George S. Coburn, Jr., the dastardly villain; Chester Rubner, Jr., the valiant hero; Mary Wylie, the pitiful heroine; Betty Nicoll, the mother; Virginia Gavin, the village gossip; Robert Jorda, a candid camera fiend; Helen MacAllister, the secretary at the mill; and Dorothy Anfantis, a maid; and "Little Ella."

Behind the scenes, in charge of make-up are the Misses Alice Campbell and Emma MacDonald; in

"NIGHT MUST FALL" AT FRIENDRAMA CLUBHOUSE SOON

Ray Wallace Will Bring Months of Preparation to Williams Thriller.

"Night Must Fall," a scalp-crawling thriller by Emyln Williams, has raised goose-pimples on audiences from London to Los Angeles during the years since it was first produced in the British capital four years ago, and now it is to be turned full blast on Arlington's theatre-hardened audiences. That earth-shaking shudder that Arlingtonians are likely to feel on the evenings of February 8, 9, and 10, will be emanating from the Friends of the Drama clubhouse where full houses are expected to collapse into wholesale jitters—and not of the bug variety, either.

"Night Must Fall" is neither a mystery play nor a horror spectacle. It represents no mystery, since the murderer is known to the audience from the start, nor does it rely on the mechanics of horrible make-up, sliding panels, disembodied hands or even the startling stimulus of gunfire. Instead, it depends upon the ultimate of histrionic ability in interpreting a masterful piece of dramatic writing.

If the reader saw "Night Must Fall" in the movies with Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, he will agree with the statement that the play is one of the most unusual he has ever seen. And after he

Guests Enjoy Sunday Readings At Library Hall

The hall of the Robbins Junior Library was filled on Sunday afternoon with book-lovers who were given a most enjoyable hour by the program presented. Rev. John Nicol Mark presided and in his usual happy manner introduced the two speakers—Rev. George Allison Butters, minister of the Calvary Methodist church, and Joseph S. Keating, superintendent of Arlington public schools. Mr. Butters gave a resume of some of the plays that have been presented on the legitimate stage. He predicted a higher moral tone in the play-writing of the future be-

International Post For Chief Bullock

It was announced last Friday that Archie F. Bullock, Arlington's popular chief of police, had been appointed as Massachusetts representative to the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Chief Bullock will be one of the seventy law enforcement executives named under a plan for international co-ordination of police administrative activity.

Chief Bullock has been president of the Massachusetts Police Chiefs Association and is at present serving as secretary of that body.

A. W. SAMPSON IS CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR BOARD

Has Long Been Active in Civic Affairs. Running for Two-Year Term.

Arthur W. Sampson of 21 Cliff street at the Heights, has announced his candidacy to fill the vacancy on the board of assessors caused by the resignation of Clarence A. Moore, who had two more years to serve. Mr. Sampson has lived in Arlington for nineteen years and has long been identified with the town's civic affairs. He is a Boston advertising man and has also had considerable experience in real estate.

The candidate has been a town meeting member for twelve years and chairman of Precinct 12 for the past eight. He is at present a member of the board of registrars, having served on that body for six years.

Mr. Sampson has also been very active outside the town hall. He was with the Arlington Community Chest during its first two years on the advertising end and is now president of the Arlington Friends of the Drama. During the World War he served in France for nineteen months as a captain in the field artillery of the 42nd ("Rainbow") Division and is a member of Arlington Post No. 39, American Legion.

Burned

Walter V. Baratta, 26, of 2 Mary street was burned about the face, neck and hands last Thursday afternoon in a home accident and was removed to Symmes Arlington Hospital by the police. He was cleaning paint brushes with turpentine when he got a flare-back from the furnace near which he was working.

Demonstrate Fine Housekeeping Art To Local Clubwomen

At the January 18 meeting of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Fred U. Wyman, the president, welcomed the Garden Club members as the afternoon guests.

The subject of the meeting was a dining room symposium, the stage being attractively arranged with a group at afternoon tea.

Mrs. Grady Feagan, chairman of the program committee, introduced Roberta Green, who was in charge of the entertainment. The first part of the symposium was a display of various fabrics for dining room decoration by Arthur T. Bent, showing color combinations of paper, draperies and furniture upholstery. He featured many in stripes, these being the newest trend in fabrics.

Especially pleasing was a cherry color paper, copy of one used at Williamsburg, draperies of pale casement cloth and chairs, chartreuse shade.

Another room was blue and yellow—pale yellow ground with blue stripes having a floral design superimposed on them, curtains blue and yellow stripes and chairs solid blue. To lighten a dark room the ceiling may be yellow, the same shade as draperies.

He advocated leather upholstery for chairs as durable and because it may be found in attractive colors.

One material for curtains was made of glass, either white or light blue, a material that would be everlasting.

CLARENCE A. MOORE RESIGNS FROM BOARD OF ASSESSORS

Creates Additional Vacancy on Board to be Filled by Ballot. Has Served Town Long and Faithfully. Illness Makes Resignation Necessary.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR MOORE'S PLACE

Homer and Sampson to be Opponents for Unexpired Term. Bill Davis to Run for Moderator.

There are few names to add to the list of candidates for town office in the March 4 election as announced in the Advocate last week, but those few are notable. The resignation of Assessor Clarence A. Moore has created a vacancy for a two-year term on that board, in addition to the regular three-year term. Arthur W. Sampson and Roger W. Homer have already taken out nomination papers for that two-year term and are hard at it to fill them in the short time allotted, February 1 being the deadline for filing papers with the town clerk.

The other notable addition to the list of intended candidates is William F. Davis, Jr., of Hutchinson road, brilliant young attorney. He has taken out papers to run for moderator, since Albert Wunderly has apparently decided not to serve another term.

The complete list of candidates to date, therefore, is as follows:

Moderator
Lawrence P. Murphy, 43 Massachusetts avenue.

Selectmen
Lawrence E. Corcoran, 19 Wollaston avenue.

Ernest W. Davis, 61 Brantwood road.

Public Works
Loren W. Marsh, 38 Norfolk road.

Edward T. Ryan, 132 Wildwood avenue.

Assessor (For 3 Years)
Ralph Hoffman, 27 Edmund road.

Anna B. Callahan, 14a Webster street.

William O. Hauser, 28 Oxford street.

Assessor (For 2 Years)
Roger W. Homer, 25 Addison street.

Arthur W. Sampson, 21 Cliff street.

Clarence A. Moore, who was elected last March to serve his twelfth consecutive year on the board of assessors, has resigned his office with two years of his term yet to run. Mr. Moore has been seriously ill for many months and it was on that account that he resigned.

The resignation was received and read to the remaining members of the board of assessors, David A. Wilcox and Guy Edwards, at their meeting last Thursday evening. In the meantime the selectmen and the town clerk have been notified of the vacancy so that there will be two vacancies to be filled by ballot at the regular town election, March 4. The term of Mr. Edwards, who was appointed last spring to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John D. O'Leary, also expires, and so far he has not signified his intention of running for re-election.

Member of an ancient Arlington family, Mr. Moore has served the town long and faithfully, not only on the board of assessors, but years ago on the board of public works and on many important committees. Many have been the expressions of sorrow because he has found it necessary to resign his present office.

Captain John Craig Will Lecture Here

Captain John D. Craig, famous adventurer and author of the best-seller, "Danger Is My Business," will speak in the Junior High School East auditorium on the evening of February 8, two weeks from today, under the sponsorship of the Arlington Teachers' Club.

Captain Craig's ability as a thrill-producer and author does not stop there, apparently, but spreads to the lecture platform, which he is reported to have taken by storm.

GREATER BOSTON COMMUNITY FUND APPEAL BEGINS

Chairman Cites Six Points Why Arlington People Should Contribute.

Thousands of soliciting volunteers in Arlington and throughout the 550-square-mile metropolitan area set forth this week in a united effort to oversubscribe the 1940 goal of $4,625,000, the minimum needed to enable the more than 175 hospitals, health and social service agencies in Greater Boston's Community Fund to continue their vital services the coming year.

In Arlington every local solicitor is working with a will to do credit to his community, under the leadership of former selectman Arthur P. Wyman, local chairman. Spurred on by the challenge of the Lincoln theme, "Teach hope to all—despair to none," he presents the Community Fund cause as an opportunity, as well as a responsibility.

R. Ammi Cutter, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, when asked for the principal reasons for contribution to Greater Boston's Community Fund by the people of Arlington, cited six points:

"First: Community Fund agencies, particularly the hospitals and health units, give year-round service to the people of Arlington.

SACHEM COUNCIL, BOY SCOUTS, TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING IN LEXINGTON

Well Known String Quartet Will Play For Woman's Club

Boaz Piller, cellist, organizer of a selected group of Boston Symphony Orchestra musicians, will bring them to the Arlington Woman's Club meeting on Thursday, February 1, at two o'clock. Norbert Lauger, first violin; Einar Hansen, second violin, and George Humphrey, viola, will complete the quartette which plays with the perfection that comes only after years of successful ensemble work.

The program has been planned to be pleasing to all—those who enjoy familiar and universally well-loved pieces, as well as those who are technically interested in chamber music.

Ann Pickering Reads at Sunday Meeting of Drama Friends

A large proportion of the membership of the Arlington Friends of the Drama gathered at the clubhouse, corner of Maple and Academy streets, Sunday afternoon to witness an interesting business session with President Arthur W. Sampson in the chair, to partake of refreshments and to be immensely entertained by a remarkable series of readings offered by Ann Reed Pickering, a member of the club.

Besides the routine reports, the report of Paul M. White, Jr., "mouthpiece" for the theatrical ball committee, proved to be most interesting. Not relying on the powers of his own oratory to introduce the annual ball, to be held in Robbins Memorial Town Hall on the eve of Washington's Birthday, he allowed himself to be heralded with a rollicking sea song, sung off stage by Richard Robinson, and when he began to speak was supported by a galaxy of gorgeous gals in peach pajamas.

P. A. Brigham Shows
Movies at Calvary

Percy A. Brigham of Robin Hood road, thrilled a crowded auditorium of the members and friends of the Calvary Methodist church last Thursday evening as he illustrated with kodachrome colored movies the trip which he took last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Brigham travelled over 10,000 miles last summer over the Canadian northwest, taking colored movies of that famous North American vacationland. Included in the pictures were scenes from town of Banff, nestled in the foothills of the Rockies, the famous ten peaks mountains, Moraine and Emerald Lakes, and lovely Lake Louise. One of the unusual events Mr. Brigham photographed was the pageant of the Stony Mountain Indians. These Indians have staged an annual pageant each year for the last fifty years, and appear in their full Indian regalia. Their costumes of varied colors showed up particularly well in the movies.

Over a score of the guests Thursday evening had travelled over much of the same territory, and a large number of the others expressed a desire to make the trip.

Mr. Brigham's technical skill as a photographer was particularly apparent in his sunrise reflection scenes and also in the picturing of the cascades.

The entertainment followed a turkey supper which was served by the ladies' aid, under the leadership of Mrs. Willis E. Munroe and her official staff.

"NIGHT MUST FALL" AT

has seen the stage production as presented by the Friends of the Drama, he will also agree that thrilling as was the movie version, it lost much of its punch on celluloid. Robert Montgomery was hailed by critics for his portrayal of the amazing character of Dan, the charming killer, but it is the considered opinion of those who have seen the Arlington production in rehearsal that Dan will be far more real than he was on the screen when he again appears before an audience in the person of Ray Wallace.

It has been well established since last year's "Outsider" that Mr. Wallace is a master of dialect and of a good, sincere, down-to-the-ground performance. But in this play he has to sound with bewildering rapidity from the depths of desperate despair to the heights of manic elation, and from the expanse of disarming charm to the confines of blood-dissolving horror. Mr. Wallace has already shown himself as a conscientious workman, but his preparation for this play has gone to prodigious lengths. He has been practically letter perfect in his myriad lines since last August and for these past many months has been perfecting himself in the role.

Mr. Wallace will be supported by two of the club's top-ranking actresses—Ann Pickering and Betty Goodwin. Mrs. Pickering too will find wide latitude for her tremendous versatility as a penurious, vitriolic old woman who enjoys poor health from her wheel chair. Under the sunlight of Dan's studied charm she blossoms out until she is nearly human as the play progresses, but of course the sunlight fades and night falls before the end of the play.

Mrs. Goodwin, as the old lady's oppressed and inhibited companion, has one of the most difficult roles in the play. Imagine a prim and proper English girl finding herself falling in love with a common, insolent young man, whom she knows to be a murderer. That is the kind of stuff she will put over.

Others in the play include Gladys Stevens as the outspoken, fearless cook; Irene Allison, as the pretty but stupid maid; Warren Guild, the pompous, unmitigated bore; and Bernadine Brooks as the nurse.

There is a short, impressive prologue to the play, and this will be carried by John O. Matthews as the Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeal. Parker Wood is directing the play and will also enact the small but juicy role of Inspector Belsize of Scotland Yard.

This committee would like to receive the written qualifications from every candidate who aspires to public office. Each candidate may be assured that he will receive honest, fair and impartial consideration.

"After much careful thought and deliberation, the members of this committee will recommend to the board of directors and the entire membership of the Citizens' Committee, the candidates that they honestly feel the town needs.

"With this support, the Citizens' Committee will look back and take satisfaction in a job well done, not on election day but during the year, when anyone who is devoted and interested in our town may honestly say that Arlington is managed by experienced, capable and courteous public officials; in other words, 'The qualified candidates'."

Woodbury Offers Service Plus at Hts. Tydol Station

The spectacular Tydol service station at 1234 Massachusetts avenue on the corner of Richardson avenue at the Heights was far from being the most successful service station in town up until thirty months ago, in spite of the fact that it was and is one of the most beautiful in the town. But things were different almost immediately after Philip A. Woodbury took over the business two and a half years ago.

Mr. Woodbury gives his personal attention to his business and throws into it all the skill and knowledge he has gained from a working lifetime around automobiles and from technical schools. In addition to that, he is a long-time Arlington resident, and that alone has attracted a large and loyal following. The service he offers is naturally more complete than can be obtained at the ordinary filling station, for Mr. Woodbury is a skilled mechanic. He is a graduate of Northeastern University's automotive school and of the Allen course on modern motors. He has received practical training by working in scores of automobile repair shops in this section of the country.

Proprietor Woodbury was born in Gloucester, January 20, 1905, but has lived most of his life in Arlington. His family moved here in 1914 and he went through the Arlington grade schools. Then the family lived for a time in Hollis, New Hampshire, and Mr. Woodbury attended high school in that town. He returned to live in Arlington sixteen years ago and makes his home at 41 Overlook road with his wife and two children.

New Records Set Up by Savings Bank Insurance

Savings Bank Life Insurance has just completed the most successful year since its establishment in 1907, it was announced yesterday by Crawford H. Stocker, Jr., president of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council. A total of 27,869 new policies were issued to residents of Massachusetts during 1939, providing a total of $24,926,986 of life insurance.

Savings Bank Life Insurance in force on December 31, 1939, amounted to $177,408,472, a new record and an increase of over 11 per cent over the figure of $159,618,705 at the end of 1938. The number of policies also reached a new high of 197,765 at the close of last year.

Dividends will be paid to policyholders in 1940 at the same basic scale as in 1939 by all but two of the issuing banks, Mr. Stocker stated. Dividends are paid after insurance has been in force for one year, but the amount varies with the age at which the insurance is taken out and the number of years it has been outstanding.

Mr. Stocker points out that during 1939, two additional mutual savings banks in Massachusetts opened Life Insurance departments, bringing to 28 the number of issuing banks. In addition, there are 102 savings banks in the Commonwealth which act as agencies for Savings Bank Life Insurance.

Young Man Makes Success of Old Drug Business

Asher Spector, proprietor of the Park Pharmacy at 1323 Massachusetts avenue, has been young all his young life. He was the youngest in the class to graduate from Malden High School in 1930 and graduated from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy at the age of twenty. It is, perhaps, his youthful energy and friendliness that has made business in the old store at the corner of Park and Massachusetts avenues increase so greatly during the short year that he has owned it. For as long as we can remember, 1323 Massachusetts avenue has been a drug store, but never has it hummed with more activity than at the present moment.

Mr. Spector was born in Malden November 21, 1913. But in spite of his comparative youth, he has been a druggist for many years and has been a registered pharmacist for the past seven. He takes particular pride in the way his prescription department has grown during the past twelve months.

Mrs. Spector, who makes her home with her husband at 141 Robbins road, also reached success at a very early age. She graduated from Portia Law School and passed the Massachusetts bar examinations on her first attempt at the age of twenty-one. For some time she maintained her own law office in Boston, but now, according to her husband, she is just a housewife, and a very good one, too.

Lee Gagner Beauty Salon Sparkles in Newest Equipment

The Lee Gagner Beauty Salon has been established in Arlington at 729 Massachusetts avenue only during the past fourteen months, but during that time it has seen almost miraculous growth, particularly since Mr. Edward Gagner, formerly a noted Boston hair stylist, joined his wife in the local business three months ago.

Mr. Gagner came here with a wide following, having worked for years in the beauty departments of Hovey's and Jordan Marsh in Boston, where his skill and individuality placed him in great demand. He has always made a practice of augmenting his own aptitude and dexterity with study and each year attends the convention of the International Association of Hairdressers in New York, which this year comes in March. He also spent four years of study and practice at Albert's Beauty Studio in Newtonville.

During the past three months the shop on Massachusetts avenue at the corner of Central street has been enlarged and entirely re-equipped and re-decorated, using the most beautiful of appointments. Besides having the most modern of equipment, designed for the finest of treatments and for longer lasting permanents, including the very latest in machineless permanent, the Paul Rilling system, the shop is known as the sunniest in Arlington. Clients are bathed with life-giving sunlight as they sit under the skilled hands of the three skilled operators.

In addition to the general work room, the establishment now includes a separate hair-dyeing and facial department, as well as the new and most attractively furnished reception room. The newly installed equipment also includes the very latest in hot water systems.

The staff consists of three operators, Lee Gagner, Miss Stanton and Mr. Gagner, and a receptionist. Mr. and Mrs. Gagner literally live with their business, making their home in an attractive apartment in the same building with their beauty salon. They have lived in Arlington for the past four years.

Arlington Man Heads Boston Business Club

At the first meeting of the newly organized Young Men's Business Club of Boston last Friday evening at the Boston Chamber of Commerce, G. Raymond Drew, who lives at 16 Benjamin road in this town, was elected president. Mr. Drew is a graduate of Somerville High School, class of 1935, and of the Suffolk University Law School. He has been employed in the commercial department of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. for the past four years.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Leonard of 28 Jason street motored last week to Wellesley to bring home their daughter, Virginia, a sophomore at the college, who was threatened with rheumatic fever. Medical treatment, however, has brought her out of danger of that disease, and she is in a much improved condition.

—Mrs. George L. Parker of 18 Elmore street entertained the Cheerio Bridge Club at her home yesterday afternoon.

WHAT'S THE Good Word?

What good news are you missing—by not keeping in touch more regularly with far-away friends and relatives? Your life will have an extra sparkle when you hear, first hand, the good luck of folks who mean a lot to you. Why deny yourself these pleasant discoveries when it's so easy to make them by telephone? And it costs so little to call out-of-town—even less evenings after 7 and all day Sunday.

The good word is "CHEAPER"

Here are a few places you think of as far away and expensive to call. See how much cheaper the rates are than you thought.

"Rulers of the Sea" Shows Burly Star As Laughing Skipper Opening Today

In a cast with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Margaret Lockwood, Will Fyfe and other actors of greatness, veteran George Bancroft returns once more to a role that made him famous, that of a sea captain. This time, he is a skipper of the old school, a Captain Bligh of sailing ships who would rather fight anyone to death than be late in his speed runs with cargo. When Mr. Bancroft is a mean, on land or on sea he makes Laughton's Bligh look like a milk sop. Here is a great, sweeping picture. Big as the mighty oceans, telling of how steam replaced sail and records the advancement in maritime history. Will Fyfe is really fine and the cast is excellent. The photoplay is magnificent, especially in the sea scenes. Mr. Bancroft's last Paramount Picture as a sea captain was "Derelict," and he was superb. His role of the brutal Captain Oliver in "Rulers of the Sea" is a worthy addition to his other roles. Once again he laughs a healthy laugh. And when Bancroft laughs, it's worth the price of admission. "Bancroft Rules the Sea."

Other Films

With "Rulers of the Sea" is "Day-time Wife," co-starring Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell.

"Destry Rides Again" Sunday through Tuesday

Three cheers for Marlene Dietrich! The star of "Shanghai Express" and "Morocco" and the originator of mannish clothes for ladies is back at the top of the heap by virtue of her rough and tumble artistry in "Destry Rides Again," the New Universal production opening Sunday at the University for three days. The Boston critics howled with glee when la Marlene hit the skids after lulu like "Angel," "Desire" and "Knight Without Armor." They ripped into the slipping actress left and right, gloating over the fact that she was through, a has-been, a beautiful-but-dumb leg artist. But she was far from finished.

Planted in an atmosphere of cigar smoke, poker chips and six-gun blasting, Marlene Dietrich strides from table to table, singing, smiling and fighting while James Stewart, opposed by the dynamic Brian Donlevy, carves himself a place in her beautiful heart. Dietrich always had magnificent legs and looks. She flaunts them in the faces of 1940 glamour girls and tops the Lamarrs and the Sheridans. "Marlene, What a Momma!"

C. Aubrey Smith in "Another Thin Man" Thursday to Saturday

William Powell, recently wedded, is back in another Thin Man hit called "Another Thin Man." Edward Ellis, the original "Thin Man" was killed in reel two of that classical epic, but the name has become so famous that it has been used in "After the Thin Man" and "Another Thin Man." Myrna Loy, back from India and miscasting, joins her hubby, Nick Charles, and presents him with a Junior. Asta, their dog and the accompanying murders are all present. Eighty year old approaching C. Aubrey Smith gets murdered in this one but not until after his usual perfect performance. What a record he has to his credit! In "City of Chance," "Eternally Yours" and "Four Feathers" he is drawing ravens everywhere. Virginia Grey and Otto D. Kruger are also in this delightful Nick and Nora film. Actor Asta.

"Follow the Fleet" On Review Day

Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire return with Betty Grable in "Follow the Fleet," (1936) with their usual superb music and footwork. With this R. K. O. re-issue revival on Wednesday only, January 31st, is Lew Ayres' "Young Doctor Killdeer," (1939) with the really terrific natural Laraine Day. With "Destry Rides Again" is "Blondie Brings Up Baby" with Arthur Lake and Penny Singleton plus Baby Simms. With "Another Thin Man" is Fox's entry, "The Honeymoon's Over" with Stuart Erwin and Marjorie Weaver.

Rindge Tech Whips A. H. S. Five, 43-33

Coach Bill Lowder's Arlington basketball team met its third straight defeat in Suburban League competition last Friday night in the Rindge Tech gym. The Cambridge team was too deep in reserve strength for Twinkle Glennon and company. The Arlington team was without the services of Russ Isner, who is in Maryland making plans for next year's schooling, and this probably made a difference. Newton nosed out Waltham, 29-28 to retain first place in the league. Cambridge Latin again served notice that they will be tough to handle and tripped Brookline, 27-20.

The Technicians used two complete teams during the contest and when they substituted they inserted an entirely new club. One outfit would lead the Arlington boys a merry chase around the court and then, while they rested, another group continued to apply the pressure. The Red and Gray is definitely lacking in reserve strength and was unable to cope with the Rindge speed.

They managed to hold up their end during the first half but were again behind—this time by only four points, 26-22. The final sixteen minutes was altogether too much for Arlington.

Tom Cotter nosed out Allen of Tech for scoring honors, with fourteen points, while Capt. Glennon dropped in two free throws and four baskets during the course of the evening. Arlington made a big improvement in shooting from the foul line by tossing eleven successful one-pointers.

The Rindge seconds soundly trounced Arlington's sophomores, 35-17.

ARLINGTON HIGH FIVE WINS FIRST LEAGUE VICTORY

Glennon and Cotter Click to Give Locals 29-26 Win. Waltham Comes Fast in Last Period.

Coach Bill Lowder's Arlington High basketball team gained its initial Suburban league victory last Tuesday afternoon in the Lowe Auditorium when they edged Waltham 29-26. For a change the Arlington boys got the breaks in the final minutes of play, and they surely deserved the win, because anyone who saw the game knows that they played their hearts out.

For the first time since the start of the season Arlington began to click in the first half. Captain Glennon and Isner did the scoring in the opening period and Arlington was out in front, 10-3. Tommy Cotter found the basket during the second eight minutes and before the horn had sounded the Red and Gray held a commanding 21-6 lead—an almost unbelievable story after the three previous contests.

The locals took the floor in the second half without having to come from behind by ten or twelve points. They had played great basketball but they came very close to losing another game in the last minute. With little Bobby Lane and Whimpy Manning caging beautiful baskets, the Watch City quintet cut the advantage down to 24-16 to enter the fourth quarter.

The final eight minutes—they seemed like hours—provided the best basketball we have seen this year. Waltham just couldn't be stopped. Lane sank a pretty set shot and then took an Arlington rebound, dribbled the length of the court, and pushed in another two points. Glennon made a successful toss from the foul line and Goguen and Manning each dropped one-pointers. Bennett caged one from mid-court and Arlington called time with 2 minutes and fifty seconds remaining and a 25-24 lead. A minute later Lane cut loss with a long one-hander and Waltham appeared on the way to victory. Isner tossed the ball out to Glennon and the little Arlington leader mustered all his strength and heaved the sphere toward the Waltham hoop. As you have guessed, it went in and gave Arlington a victory. Isner added a foul shot with five seconds left to be played.

Waltham took the second team encounter, 23-17.

Newton, Cambridge Latin eked out a close 3-2 decision over Belmont in the final game of the program.

Arlington entered the game a definite favorite and did play better hockey. Medford had on its first line a couple of boys named Riley, who simply flew up and down the ice and between them they managed to gain the tie. Will Riley, who was the fastest man on the ice, beat Spinner on a break away after just 40 seconds of play in the opening period with brother Joe getting an assist. He skated right between Rohde and Connelly and had little difficulty scoring from close up.

It looked as though the Menotomy Towns would win with ease after the first session had been completed. At 7:25 Connolly fed Moore a pass inside the Medford zone. Don relayed the disc in to Paul Sullivan and Sully flashed the light to square accounts. Twenty-four seconds before the close of the period, Capt. Bob Sanders tallied unassisted to give his boys the lead. Johnny Spinner had a very busy time during this twelve minutes.

Arlington jumped into a two-goal advantage immediately after the start of the middle chapter. Eddie Burns was credited with the goal and Tom Connolly got his second assist of the afternoon. The locals forced the play during the entire period and Medford wasn't able to get one good opportunity. Arlington might have been able to score again if they had just shot a little more often. The boys seem to have an idea that they must be right on top of the cage before firing.

Lightning struck during the first minute of the final stanza. Capt. W. Riley soloed right through the Arlington team and passed Spinner with a high shot to the left hand corner after thirty seconds. He gave Joe the ensuing face-off and the latter returned the rubber to Will in front of the Arlington goal. Again the Medford leader had Spinner at his mercy.

Arlington pushed the pressure during the rest of the game but blew several chances and was unable to tally. All three Mustang goals were scored while Arlington's first line was in action. Incidentally, Medford was the first team to flash the bulb behind the Arlington net three times in one afternoon.

HOCKEY TEAM FACES CLIMAX

Meets League Leaders Sat. Basketball Team Has Chance for Revenge.

Arlington High's hockey team reaches the climax of its season Saturday afternoon at the Arena, when they meet Newton in the opening game. Arlington must win the contest if they have any hopes of retaining their crown. They have another crack at Melrose, but this is their only game with the Orange and Black.

The hoopmen travel to Brookline tomorrow afternoon and have an opportunity to avenge the earlier defeat. Tuesday a strong Cambridge Latin team comes to Arlington.

Local Basketball League Gets Off To Red-Hot Start

The local Basketball League sponsored by Leonard Collins, supervisor of Federal Recreation in Arlington, got under way this week. There are eight local teams in the league, and some great games are anticipated. At the Junior High East on Monday night the Boys' Club defeated the Rangers by a score of 65 to 21, and at the Junior High West the Mohawks beat the Eagles, 90 to 28. On Tuesday night at the West, the Forest A. C.

LOWLY MEDFORD HUMBLER RED & GRAY WITH 3-3 TIE

High School Hockey Team Drops to Third Place in League Standing. Medford Scores Thrice in Last Period.

A supposedly weak Medford sextet, that has failed to win a game in six starts and is occupying the cellar of the Greater Boston League standing, rose to mighty heights last Saturday at the Arena and all but defeated Coach Charlie Down's charges. Johnny Spinner was forced to make a beautiful save at the expense of Will Riley in the last minute of action to give the Arlington team a 3-3 tie. The Rindge Tech team, which has also gone through the campaign without a victory, played inspired hockey and fought off the desperate rushes of the fast Newton forwards to give them a 2-2 deadlock. Melrose romped over Stoneham, 5-1 and is now a full game in front of the Red and Gray and a half game ahead of defeated the Purple Invaders by a score of 49 to 45. At the East the Olympics beat the Eagles, 73 to 38. Next week's schedule is as follows: Monday, Jan. 29—B. C. Club vs. Boys' Club at Junior High East. Monday, Jan. 29—Jefferson Club vs. Mohawks at Junior High West.

Tuesday, Jan. 30—Rangers vs. Purple Invaders at Junior High West. Tuesday, Jan. 30—Eagles vs. Forest A. C. at Junior High East. Wednesday, Jan. 31—Boys' Club vs. Olympics at Junior High East. Wednesday, Jan. 31—Purple Invaders vs. Mohawks at Junior High West. Thursday, Feb. 1—Rangers vs. Forest A. C. at High School, 7:15 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 1—B. C. Club vs. Eagles at High School, 7:45 p. m.

Johnny Lax Offers Hockey Instruction

All boys of Junior High School age and over, interested in entering their ice hockey teams in a league, are urged to send the names of their teams to either Leonard Collins, supervisor of Federal Recreation in Arlington, or to Johnny Lax at the Robbins House. The entries will close at 7 p. m. Monday, January 29, when a meeting will take place for all boys interested. Johnny Lax will have charge of this sport, and he will conduct a hockey school during the rest of the winter, and discuss the rules and fundamentals of hockey. Mr. Lax is well known both here and in Canada both as a player and an official. He is a former Arlington High School star, and for many years has played with the Boston Olympics, making the Olympic trip to Germany in 1936.

Noted Missionary to Lecture Here for St.
Regis College Guild

A lecture which will be of interest to the public in general will be given by Rev. Linus Lombard, C. P., at American Legion Hall on Sunday afternoon, January 28, at 3 o'clock. As Father Lombard has but recently returned from China after spending eight years in the Hunan Province—the last opened to the white man—his subject, "China Today," will be authentic as well as educational. Moving pictures of China will be shown.

James R. Powers, Jr., will assist with violin selections, accompanied by Miss Palmyra Da Camera.

A large committee, headed by Mrs. James R. Powers, Mrs. W. John Stevenson, Mrs. Joseph J. O'Donoghue, Mrs. Ray Connor, Mrs. Wm. Sutton, all of Arlington, Mrs. Chas. Finnerty, Mrs. Leo MacDonald, Mrs. Edward Dailey of Somerville, Mrs. E. O'Rourke and Mrs. James Burns of Cambridge, are working to make the lecture a success.

Regis College young ladies, daughters of members, who will assist are the Misses Leona Powers, Betty Stevenson, Catherine Sutton, Betty O'Donoghue, Marguerite MacDonald and Patty Burns. Young gentlemen ushers are Jack Stevenson, John O'Donoghue, Charles Finnerty, Edward O'Rourke. Mrs. Charles Finnerty and Mrs. Leo MacDonald will be at the door.

Open House at Horticultural Hall

The Massachusetts Horticultural Society has made it possible for the Garden Club Federation to have permanent headquarters at Horticultural Hall, Boston, and on Friday, January 26th, from 2 until 9 o'clock there will be an Open House, to which Garden Club members and friends are invited.

The different organizations which have offices in the building are co-operating, and tea will be served from four until six o'clock. Mrs. Stanley M. Ryerson and Mrs. G. William Anderson of Arlington will serve as hostesses in the evening.

Sewing Club Organized

The B. L. Sewing Club of the American Legion Auxiliary to Post 39, met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Anna Buckley, 18 Jean road, for the purpose of organizing a group to work in connection with the Child Welfare program. The afternoon was spent sewing and mending clothes, after which a luncheon was served by the chairman. Those present were: Mrs. Geo. T. Daly, Mrs. Mae Donahue, president, Mrs. Carrie Scribner, Mrs. Jennie Kurris, Mrs. Betty Coelsch, Mrs. Jessie Fitzgerald, Mrs. Margaret Delany, Mrs. Kathryn Norton, and Mrs. Marion Keefe.

Club Activities

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Arlington Woman's Club had a large representation present at the Seventh District Social Welfare Conference at the Cantabrigia Club in Cambridge, on January 19th. Those noted were Mrs. Fred U. Wyman, president; Mrs. Thomas J. McCoubrey, Mrs. Fred S. Douglas, Mrs. N. C. Jenkinson, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. Bennett Moore, Mrs. Willard A. Wallace, Mrs. Arthur F. Wells.

The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs is holding an all-day conference of the Division of Social Welfare at the Parker House in Boston, February 2nd. Those noted were Mrs. Fred U. Wyman, president; Mrs. Thomas J. McCoubrey, Mrs. Fred S. Douglas, Mrs. N. C. Jenkinson, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. Bennett Moore, Mrs. Willard A. Wallace, Mrs. Arthur F. Wells.

TOWER MOTHERS' CLUB

On Monday evening, January 22, the Tower Mothers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Hartwell Flemming, 31 Cedar avenue, where beautiful colored moving pictures of Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies were shown by Mrs. E. S. Harding of the Waltham Travel Bureau. A social hour and delicious refreshments followed this interesting meeting.

TOWNSEND CLUB NO. 1

At the next meeting in February, John H. Weir, state representative of the Townsend Recovery Plan is to be the guest speaker. Mr. Weir has recently returned from a conference held in Chicago, and will no doubt have some interesting news to tell the club.

Mrs. John Kelley wishes to thank all members who so generously contributed to make the penny sale a fine success, despite the cold weather on that evening.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The next meeting of the Middlesex County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at the Beebe Junior High School, Pleasant street, Malden, on Saturday, January 27, at 2 p. m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 sharp. Delegates are: Mrs. Mae Donahue, president; Mrs. Anna Buckley and Mrs. Elizabeth Berg; alternates—Mrs. Josephine Rich, Mrs. Betty Coelsch, and Mrs. Marion Riley.

Auxiliary Bridge

Mrs. Mae Donahue is in charge of the American Legion Auxiliary bridge and whist party to be held in the organization's quarters at 9 Court street, Monday evening.

CUTTER P. T. A.

"Fathers Night" of the Cutter Parent-Teacher Association was held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening. It was very gratifying to see the fathers present in such large numbers.

After several delightful selections by the Cutter P. T. A. orchestra, Mrs. Thomas Washer, president, introduced Wallace Rockwell, chairman of the program for the evening, who welcomed his audience and called upon Miss Flora B. Bradford, principal of the school, who also extended cordial greetings to all.

The Cutter P. T. A. Choral Group most pleasingly rendered several selections and featured tenor duets by Harold Slater and Alfred Repetto.

Mr. Rockwell then presented the guest and speaker, V. W. Peterson, special agent in charge of the Boston Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, whose talk on "The Work of the G-Men" was most interesting and enlightening.

During the social hour, which was in charge of the third grade fathers and the hospitality committee, music by the orchestra was greatly enjoyed.

The attendance honor banner was awarded the children of Mrs. Hunt's class, grade one.

ARLINGTON EMBLEM CLUB

The Arlington Emblem Club No. 46 will hold its sixth annual banquet and Birthday Party at the Elks' Hall, "Ye Lantern," Pond Lane, on Tuesday evening, January 30th.

The committee, of which Mrs. John Reardon is chairman, includes Mrs. George Higgins, Mrs. Walter McLean, Mrs. John Allison, Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, Mrs. Charles Saxon, Mrs. John Byrne, Mrs. Thomas Sullivan and Mrs. Charles Carrigan.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Arlington Kiwanis Club will help celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of Kiwanis International at their meeting in Wyman's Tavern this noon, and Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, past president of the Arlington club and former principal of Junior High School West, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Hawkes is now superintendent of schools in Abington.

Last week Alfred J. Nickerson of Winchester and well known in this town was elected to membership.

A. O. H. AUXILIARY

The date of the whist and bridge party to be held under the auspices of Division 4, Ladies Auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians has been definitely set for Monday evening, February 5th, instead of previous dates already announced. A large selection of valuable prizes has been donated and secured. The affair is open to the public.

Mrs. Margaret Callahan is general chairman and will be assisted by a large group of officers and members. Division officers are requested to be on hand definitely before 7:45 p. m. on that evening in order to hold a business session prior to the party. Many important matters have to be taken up, and final arrangements made for the St. Patrick's banquet. Mrs. B. A. O'Brien, president, will conduct the business meeting.

ST. MALACHI COURT

The regular meeting of St. Malachi court #81, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters will take place this (Thursday) evening at 8 p. m. Quarterly financial statements will be read, and other business matters discussed.

Mrs. Kathleen M. Cunneen, chief ranger, will preside.

VARIA STUDY CLUB

The Varia Study Club continued with its program of reviewing the history of our nation with two papers written by club members. The first of these was entitled "America Secedes from the Empire," and was written by Mrs. Stanley Gove and in her absence was read by Mrs. Beatrice M. Ring. In a graphic style the paper rekindled those stirring days of the Battle of Lexington and showed how great a part Menotomy played in repelling the British soldiers.

Miss Helen Irwin traced the early days of the republic, the beginning of our laws, the formation of the political parties and the gradual development of the government in a well-prepared paper called "A Nation Finds Itself."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Emmett Webber of 189 Oakland avenue. Mrs. Richard Stimpson and her committee served refreshments during a social hour.

Social Service League
To Hold Annual Meeting

The Arlington Social Service League, Inc., will hold its annual meeting on Friday evening, January 26, in Library Hall, at eight o'clock. All officers, directors, and delegates of participating groups are urged to attend.

Annual reports of expenditure of funds and details of the work accomplished in the community the past year will be heard. The general public is invited to attend.

THE STATE OF THE NATION

The President has submitted a budget for the coming fiscal year showing substantial economies. Nearly every major item, excepting national defense, was cut. Total savings, if the budget were adhered to, would amount to $675,000,000.

Everybody agrees that there is drastic need for economy in government. Undoubtedly editorial pages from Maine to California will ring with praise—and hope. Business men and civic bodies galore will laud the President's action. Women's clubs and chambers of commerce have been busy for years resolving that there should be economy, and damning the spending politicians. They, too, are quick to praise the faintest sign of economy. We have all shouted that economy is the only alternative to a national visit to purgatory.

But what does it all add up to? Apparently nothing! Within a few weeks the folks back home will learn that real economy is not just for the other fellow after all. They will learn that the "free money" they have been promised for manifold local projects is not forthcoming. Then the stampede will begin to get noses back in the public trough. Tales of woe and hardship will descend on Washington in an increasing avalanche. Merchants, doctors, lawyers and thieves will form committees. The committees will have their policies printed in the local paper. They will be off to Washington for more money. The rest of the folks stay at home and cuss the spending politicians. The slide to financial and economic purgatory will continue. Who will care if individual liberty and savings are left behind?

The shake-up in the British war cabinet was not unexpected—it has been felt both here and in England that some of the posts were held by stuffed shirts who had to be given the gate in the interest of efficiency. But the dropping of energetic, popular War Minister Hore-Belisha was a surprise.

Hore-Belisha's downfall apparently came largely as the result of a run-in with the general staff. One belief of his was that the army must be made more democratic, and that the higher officers should be younger. He put that belief into action, and it didn't please the generals. On top of that, it is reported that he fell out with Winston Churchill. Churchill is by far the most colorful and aggressive figure now in Chamberlain's cabinet, and he usually gets his way. The London press has been hammering away with anti-Chamberlain editorials. Some have even said that the successful prosecution of the war demands the Prime Minister's resignation. The whole thing will be aired when Parliament meets again.

Should the Chamberlain government fall—and there is no indication that it will as yet—it's almost a certainty that Churchill would get the Prime Ministership. So the chance of Hore-Belisha coming back is extremely remote.

Fifty Years Ago This Week

The old wool card mill on the Robbins estate, disappeared this week under the blows of the workmen employed by Mr. Warren A. Peirce.

Mr. E. Nelson Blake, late of Chicago, who plans to make Arlington his future home, has arrived here and is busy overhauling and renovating his recent purchase, the Bartlett mansion, on the Avenue, nearly opposite the Baptist church. Mr. George D. Tufts is doing the painting, Mr. Stickney the furnace work and plumbing.

With taxes mounting to the point of ruin, we have a suggestion to offer. Why can not the Moderator select a body of responsible citizens in whom the town can have confidence, and let them go over the proposed expenditures of the town departments and make recommendations to the annual town meeting when the items are voted upon. Let these men serve as a finance committee, if you will, and give the rabble some guidance in pecuniary matters.

Mr. John D. Freeman, the veteran printer who some three score of years ago established the now famous Riverside Press of Cambridge, celebrated his 90th birthday last Wednesday. Mr. Freeman has four living children, one of them being Susan, the wife of Wm. E. Wood of Wm. T. Wood & Co., Arlington ice tool manufacturers, and of Parker & Wood of Boston. Since one of his aunts lived to be more than 100 years old, Mr. Freeman, now in the best of health, confidently expects to arrive at that great age.

IN 1915

Twenty-Five Years Ago This Week

Thus far there have been two public announcements of candidates for office at the March election. Max

H. Meyer has announced that he will be a candidate for selectman, and Arthur J. Hendrick is running for assessor.

The committees of the Orthodox Congregational church are as follows: Parish Committee—William E. Hardy, chairman; W. G. Rolfe, Chas. M. MacMillan; music committee—W. A. Muller, chairman; A. W. Wood, R. T. Hardy, clerk; R. Walter Hilliard; treasurer, Frederick B. Thompson; collector, Wilson D. Clark, Jr.; auditor, Myron Taylor.

Friday evening of last week there was a large audience assembled in Robbins Memorial Town Hall and at the same time the old town hall, now leased to Arlington Theatre, was full to overflowing with those who were out to see the "movies." This simultaneous outpouring gives a graphic idea of how much the town has grown during the past few years.

As the result of the attempt of the unemployed in Chicago to have a public parade on Sunday in face of the law against and an ordinance forbidding the parade, a riot occurred in that city on Sunday.

Returns to U. S. Navy Training at Newport

James D. Collins, Jr., U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins, residing at 278 Broadway, returned last Saturday to the Naval Training Station at Newport, Rhode Island, after spending seven days leave at home visiting his parents and friends. He will soon be assigned to one of the ships of Uncle Sam's first line of defense.

Mr. Collins says he likes the navy life and has decided to take up electricity, one of the many trades offered to young ambitious men by the Navy. James enlisted on November 13, 1937, and received his training at Newport, R. I.

Young men desiring information regarding enlistment in the Navy are urged to contact the Navy Recruiting representative at the Arlington post office any Wednesday afternoon, or call in person at the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Boston.

WOODCUTS

Sometimes opportunity knocks when you aren't there to hear it. An Arlington family missed out on a lot of free merchandise the other day, just because no one was home to answer the phone when it rang. On WCOP's "Telephone Club" hour they spin a wheel which gives them a page, a column and a line in the telephone book. The family whose telephone is listed in that particular spot gets the goods. This time it was Ernest A. Snow at 15 Temple street. Unfortunately, however, the telephone rang in vain.

Sometimes one can make more stir by omission than by admission. Just because the big press broke down last week, causing us to be very late on the newsstands and with out-of-town subscribers, one would have thought that civilization itself was crumbling, judging from the number of telephone calls we received. As a matter of fact, the storm of protest was rather more flattering than disturbing.

For the mechanically minded, we might explain that the break-down was caused by a stoppage in the oil reservoir supplying the main bearing. The press came to a screaming stop, and it was two days before mechanics could hammer the shaft out for regrinding. We can assure our readers that the bearing was not the only thing that was hot around here.

Mrs. Peter Gray has also had very positive proof that people do read the Advocate, every line of it. One of our reporters contributed the erroneous information that her grandchild was visiting her and we printed it. Now Mrs. Gray has children, it is true, but she is still too young to be blessed with grandchildren; consequently, the item was an obvious error, and how it sneaked by our whole staff is hard to explain. Anyway, we apologize to Mrs. Gray for the ribbing she has taken from countless friends and associates and at the same time we thank her for her patience with us and commend her on her good sportsmanship.

After the Advocate's story and editorial on Mrs. Roger W. Homer on the occasion of her retirement as president of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association after twenty-five years of service. Mr. Homer remarked to us that from now on he would have to be content with being known only as Jane Homer's husband. Roger may not realize it, but the fact is that things have been like that for years.

At the moment, however, Mr. Homer is busy furthering his own candidacy for the two-year term on the board of assessors, and he will be opposed by Arthur W. Sampson. Now as it happens, we are very fond of both these gentlemen, and that friendship has not grown any less with years of close association. So we can sympathize with those many Arlingtonians who will find themselves in the same position. It's a shame we can't vote for both.

Incidentally, if you can sort out and arrive at the truth of the stories flying about as to why Mr. Moore's resignation came at this time, who engineered it, and who will benefit from it, you have better political brains than we have—but of course, that isn't saying much.

Shop Window Dressed To Advertise Lecture

Attention is called to the window of the Kathryn Fashion Shoppe, which has been dressed a la Chinese by Miss Leona Powers, with a beautifully carved Chinese camphor-wood chest on which is a set of Chinese chimes, a gold poster telling the story of a lecture to be given on China by Rev. Linus Lombard, C. P., at American Legion Hall on Sunday afternoon, January 28, at 3 o'clock. On each side of the poster are two Chinese dolls. A draping of gold cloth and a red Chinese cinnabar vase complete a very attractive window.

Virginia Hunt Winner, the program chairman, offered an eloquent build-up for "Night Must Fall," three-act thriller by Emyln Williams to be given at the clubhouse February 8, 9 and 10, and told something of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" to be presented in March, under the direction of Myrdred Foley Trempt.

Mrs. Pickering gave a foretaste of what she will do when she appears in the principal feminine role in "Night Must Fall" two weeks from now, by proving that she can go just about anything. She had her audience with her instantly and then tossed them into the aisles with her hilariously funny sequences. The reader is to be congratulated not only on her vivid performance, but on the excellence of her original scripts. She read several selections, one in particular demonstrating a noteworthy flair for pantomime, since it was a young girl's adventure on a roller-coaster, entirely without words. Her final encore was a rollicking recitation on the American Eagle delivered with show-stopping results over the handicap of hay fever.

Heights Baptists Host To Sagamore C. E. Rally

The Sagamore Union of the Junior Christian Endeavor will hold its annual rally on Sunday, January 28 at 3:00 p. m., in the main auditorium of the Arlington Heights Baptist church. The various delegations of the participating churches of the Sagamore area will be in charge of Miss A. Weinhold of Medford, junior councillor. The various parts of the service will be taken by boys and girls of Junior age. The meeting is open to all young people from nine to eleven years of age.

Rev. John Mark Lectures To Unitarian Alliance

There was a large attendance present last Monday morning when Rev. John Nicol Mark gave the first of a series of three lectures on "Religion in the Poets" to the Social Alliance of the Unitarian church. This week's lecture was particularly interesting and was illustrated by the reading of several beautiful poems by Mr. Mark.

A delicious luncheon was served at 12:30, followed by sewing.

Orthodox Congregational In Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Orthodox Congregational church on Friday, January 19th, brought out a large attendance. The business session was preceded by a catered supper, with the waitresses from the different groups in the Bradshaw Friendly Union.

Earl S. Lewis as moderator presided over the business of the meeting, when reports from the officers of the church and its several branches were presented. The most gratifying reports were from the chairman of the prudential committee, Donald MacLeod, and from the treasurer, Everett C. Cobb, both of whom reported a balanced budget and a small balance in the treasury. The church property has undergone extensive repairs during the past year, both inside and outside, and all bills have been met.

The officers and committees elected to serve during 1940 were as follows: Deacons, (4 years) Dr. D. T. Percy and J. Kennedy McCormick; Deaconesses, (2 years) Mrs. Wm. K. Cook and Mrs. Bernard G. Teel; Clerk, (1 year) Albert W. Wunderlich; Treasurer, (1 year) Everett G. Cobb; Asst. Treasurer, (1 year) Mrs. Frank Wunderlich; Collector, (1 year) Mrs. Frank Wunderlich; Auditor, (1 year) Hayward S. Houghton; Moderator, (1 year) Earl S. Lewis; Historian, (1 year) Mrs. Geo. B. C. DEMONSTRATE FINE HOUSEKEEPING ART TO LOCAL CLUBWOMEN

The club had some interesting suggestions from Edith Thomas Cooley on use of different kinds of china and glassware for dining, buffet or tea table. The service plate for the first course may be small as a dessert plate, she said, if a bouillon cup is used instead of a soup plate.

If some pieces of an old French china set are gone it may be combined with others in delicate colors or with gold bands. The bread and butter plate is convenient for a catch-all even if butter is not served. Individual sets are appropriate for salad or dessert. One may use what she has with some added color, blue being the favorite color for the dining room, said Miss Cooley.

In front of the stage was a long table set for a buffet supper. At one end the coffee or tea with large cups, at the other end the serving dish and large plates. For this setting one may put all courses on the table at once, as the guests serve themselves.

The third part of the program was by Roberta Green, who described two parties. Everyone has a hobby. Ask each guest to bring what represents his or her hobby wrapped in paper. These are numbered and the object is to name the owner of each hobby. Another suggestion was to have parties for the boys and girls so that they may entertain in their own home. Help them plan, but let them have the responsibility.

A surprise party was suggested with packages on a bare table. Each takes one and finds she has some part to do in preparing the supper. Every one has a job so there are no small flowers. New ideas may be found in magazines, new foods in store catalogues, new decorations in department stores. Use what you can adapt to your home, the speaker suggested.

The essential in entertaining is hospitality, which may be for friendship or a basis for business contact. It is a pleasure to be called a charming and clever hostess. There is a merited criticism of the home by school department officials who maintain that the teaching of social graces is apparently left to them.

The member were invited to inspect the lovely tables in the rear of the hall, set and decorated by members of the committee.

cause of such demand by the supporters of the stage. Supt. Keating gave a splendid review of J. B. Priestley's book, "Let Us Sing." In closing the hour, Mr. Mark referred to the coming birthday of Robert Burns, who was born January 25th, 1759, thus making it his one hundred and eighty-first birthday; and recited some of the poet's more familiar poems. The cheery open fire was conducive to a pleasant chat over a cup of tea served by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mrs. Lucinda Spottford, librarian, and her assistants.

Mrs. Ensor Hostess At Dessert Bridge

Mrs. Howard R. Ensor was hostess at a very delightful dessert bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on Richfield road, three tables being in play. She served delicious puffs filled with peppermint stick ice cream and covered with chocolate sauce and offered three unusually handsome prizes. Mrs. W. G. Porter was winner of first prize. Mrs. Raymond Powell of Malden was second, and Mrs. J. Stanley Coleman received the very consoling consolation. The other players were Mrs. Edward B. Caulkins, Mrs. Wendell A. Osborn, Mrs. Llewellyn M. Evans, Mrs. Paul V. Chandler, Mrs. Arthur Lewis, Mrs. F. H. Brown and Mrs. Beatrice M. Ring, all of Arlington, and Mrs. Clarence R. Day of Shirley.

O'Neill was wedged into the driver's seat in such a way that the assistance of the fire department's special service crew was necessary to extricate him. Miss Galgay, who suffered a possible fracture of the skull, a broken nose, possible fracture of the left ankle and lacerations on both arms and legs, was placed on the danger list at the hospital and did not recover consciousness until yesterday.

O'Neill was driving in the direction of Cambridge and apparently lost control of the car. At any rate, all four wheels of the machine were on the sidewalk after the accident. The impact knocked off a U. S. mail box, but it did not move or break the steel pole. A big tree was avoided by inches. After the accident, the driver, who was unable to get out of the machine, attracted attention by yelling from the window and blowing his horn. His injuries included a possible fracture of the left kneecap, lacerations on the left leg and multiple abrasions about the face.

Allison G. Ganong of Townsend reported to the police Sunday afternoon that four-year-old Clara J. Maguire of 7 Brookdale road had run into the side of his car as he was driving on Massachusetts avenue, near Central street. Her leg was injured and she was treated by the family physician.

There were several more auto accidents during the week, but all were minor, not involving personal injuries.

Says U. S. May Still Be Drawn into War

If one cannot find the time, or perhaps the inclination to follow world affairs, it is suggested that he attend the talks being given by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor in the vestry of the Unitarian church. Mrs. Taylor in her hour-long talk gives valuable information that to a less discriminating mind would require hours of reading with but poor results as to what is going on in those countries across the water.

In her talk yesterday morning, Mrs. Taylor suggested to her audience that they tune in each morning at eight o'clock to hear the news from Europe.

Mrs. Taylor does not feel that we have been without blame in handling our foreign relations with Finland, or with several other countries, including China and Japan, and she still has her doubts that the United States can keep out of this conflict, which as she says is going to be a long one unless the peace plan being suggested by President Roosevelt and the Vatican can be accomplished. She feels that President Roosevelt will announce his intentions as to a third term by March.

Huge Wedding Cake Attracts Attention

The huge white and silver decorated cake displayed in the window of the Foster and Evans Gift Shoppe at 691 Mass. avenue attracted many admirers, particularly when it was known that it was the handiwork of Mrs. J. H. Strauss of 47 Mystic Lake drive. It had all the technicalities of a super-craftsman masterpiece and Mrs. Strauss, who does this type of work as a hobby, deserves an unusual amount of credit. This cake was displayed at the Home Economics Day last Thursday of the Woman's Club on the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary table.

Father of Local Boys' Club Director Dead

Deane Moores, director of the Arlington Boys' Club, has the sympathy of his many friends because of the death of his father, Henry W. Moores, of Somerville. Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the John Bryant Sons Funeral Home, 181 Broadway, Somerville, at two o'clock. Mr. Moores passed away on Tuesday.

Obituaries

MRS. MARGARET LAUBINGER

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Laubinger, widow of Albert Caesar Laubinger, were held yesterday afternoon at the A. E. Long Memorial Chapel, 4 Beach street, North Cambridge, Mrs. Laubinger having passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph M. Dracia, 44 Egerton road, in her eighty-sixth year. Burial was in the Cambridge cemetery.

Mrs. Laubinger was born in New York City, daughter of John and Rosana Bishop, and had lived in Arlington for the past four years.

RAPHAEL PELLETIER

A high mass of requiem was celebrated last Friday morning at the Notre Dame de Pitie church in North Cambridge for Raphael Pelletier, known to hundreds of Harvard men as "the barber at the square." Burial was in the Cambridge cemetery.

Mr. Pelletier, who died on January 17 at his home, 48 Franklin street, retired from active work three years ago. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Rose Doucet Pelletier; three sons, Arthur T. Pelletier of Roxbury, member of the Boston police department, Ernest E. Pelletier of Wakefield, and Henry E. Pelletier of Cambridge; and three daughters, Misses Helen and Blanche Pelletier and Mrs. Edward Connors of Arlington.

MRS. NILES H. BERGSTROM

Funeral services for Johanna Bergstrom, of 43 Franklin street, who passed away at her home last Wednesday, were held last Friday at the Berglund Funeral Home, 292 Massachusetts avenue. Rev. Karl Johansson of the Augustana Lutheran church in Cambridge officiated. Mrs. Bergstrom was born in Purmo, Finland, November 14, 1887. She came to this country thirty-two years ago and had made her home in Arlington the past eleven years. She was a member of the Apostolic Lutheran church. She leaves her husband, Niles H. Bergstrom; two daughters, Anna and Elsa, two sons, Arthur and Carl, also a sister in Finland. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery. The bearers were John, Algot and Elfrid Bergstrom, Emil and William Fellman, and John Hagberg.

Marriages

ANDREWS - ETTINGER

Miss Virginia Prentice Ettinger of Westport, Connecticut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Prentice Ettinger of Arlington, was married Saturday evening at All Saints church in New York, to Paul A. Andrews, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. Benjamin Andrews of Arlington. The Rev. Ralph S. Meadowcroft of New York performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white slipper satin gown with a high neckline and a hoop-skirt. Her veil of lace and tulle was arranged in a Gothic style head-dress, and her bouquet combined butterfly orchids with lilies-of-the-valley. Her sister and maid of honor, Miss Elaine Prentice Ettinger of Westport, wore coral taffeta with a matching hat. The bridesmaids, who wore similar gowns in powder blue, were Miss Betty Rucker of Brooklyn, New York, Miss Thelma Andrews, sister of the bridegroom, of Arlington, Miss Reda Smith of Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Roy Johnson of New York, Mrs. Edward Beebe of Burlington, Vermont, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. William Makepeace of New Canaan, Connecticut, Mrs. Robert Prall of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Wilfred E. Wiegand of Trenton, New Jersey.

MORRIS - SULLIVAN

There was a pretty ceremony at Orthodox Congregational church Tuesday evening, joining in marriage Miss Hazel Florence Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sullivan of 10 Devereaux street, and Robert Lewis Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Morris of 114 Pleasant street. The ceremony was performed by a brother of the bridegroom, Rev. Irvin N. Morris of Baltimore, Maryland, who was assisted by Rev. Laurence L. Barber, pastor of the church. The oldest brother of the bridegroom, Rev. Edward Morris, was minister of the Orthodox Congregational church ten years ago.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception in the church parlors, which were beautifully decorated with huge bowls of cut spring flowers. The church was likewise decorated for the occasion, with the addition of ferns and candelabra. Preceding the ceremony, Donald Sullivan, brother of the bride, sang "Because," with Miss Alice Cunningham at the organ.

The bride was very lovely in a gown of white faille, with full skirt and pannier jacket with low collar, long sleeves and peplum, buttoned from neck to waist. Her gown carried no train, but from a lace head-piece was draped a long veil. She carried gardenias and lilies of the valley in a sheaf. She was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her cousin, Miss Caroline McLean as maid of honor and by Miss Anna Baum of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and Miss Esther Morris, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaids.

Miss McLean wore raspberry faille, with sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves, while the bridesmaids were similarly gowned in soft blue faille. All carried bouquets of old fashioned flowers in colonial design with lace frills.

William Reginald Bennett of 205 Washington street was best man, while the ushers were Andrew Skillins and Donald Sullivan, brother of the bride.

The bride attended Arlington High School, and Boston University, while Mr. Morris received his education at Baltimore City College and Boston University. After a motor trip through the south, Mr. and Mrs. Morris will make their home at 114 Pleasant street.

Entertain Masons

Members of the Arlington Friends of the Drama, under the direction of Edward W. Center, went across the street to the Masonic Temple last Saturday night to give the Masons and their ladies a Gilbert & Sullivan entertainment. A large chorus augmented the soloists, who were Ernest Eames, Dr. David Kennedy, Russell Hamlet, Richard Robinson, Kathleen Killcoyne, Everett Glines, Donald Sullivan, Evelyn Cornet and Jane McClure of Boston University. Russell Curry and Helen Center did an intricate dance. John Chipman was at the piano. As the final encore, Mr. Center was persuaded to do his movie stunt.

—Her many friends she made in Arlington when she lived in this town up until three years ago, were grieved to learn of the death of Miss Emily G. George, who died at her home in Lexington of a heart attack Monday at the age of forty. She had been connected with the consulate of Portugal in Boston in a secretarial capacity for the past twenty years.
